

Ensure the Health and Safety of Your Team and Business

Occupational Health Professionals

The health, safety and well-being of your team is important during normal circumstances. However, during our current COVID-19 crisis, it's critical.

It's time to take action to ensure your business continues to drive forward. Hire occupational health professionals to take temperatures and screen employees for COVID-19 symptoms to ensure the health of your entire team.

Medix has been working with employers across all industries to provide Occupational Health talent FAST. Our database of pre-screened, top talent is ready to work. Let Medix partner with you to find:
